

Affirmation.

I have let go of what does not serve me. I have let go of dark imaginings. There is nothing left of that. There is no future there, in what never existed. I have come to know the Light of the Sun That Is All, and Be its Shining. For I AM. We all are. This is my Creativity. As it is that of others too. For we are each a part of the same One We Are. The Only Presence. This is my Will. As it is that of all sentient beings. Universal Love-Light Consciousness shines through my Mind, Heart and Being. This is the Truth and the Reality. My body is Love and my Soul is Seeing. This is Freeing. This is the Mind of God in all living things, keeping me in line with seeing... positive timelines of Love within... positive lives of Love as King. And while I may have been misled, all I know is what is said... healing comes and Truth is known... Earth is here and we have grown. Seeds of Beauty are what's sown... the world we make becomes what's known. What we know is Purest Being... and from this our Creation flows... Is flowing. Our Creativity is (re)connected with the Source from which it springs, and Love and Truth cascade, Here and Now and all around us. Our lives are this unfolding... and the refolding of Truth back into Itself. From the Light of Truth to the Light of Creation, to the fall of the darkness of ignorance and the rising back up of the Love that never died. Through the/our/its healing back to Itself. From Unmanifest to manifest and returning within... LIGHT, LIGHT, LIGHT! Forever and always. It is This. Love is what stands here. And What Is. Eternally So. So It Is. Love. We Are. Creating. HereNow. One.
